Dr. Charles O. Ahonen

Reverend Stephen F. Lanen, O.S.A.

Dr. John T. Lawlor

With the passing of our senior year has come the deaths of three men long associated with Merrimack College.

On the past November 7 Rev. Stephen Lanen, O.S.A. of the Theology department succumbed to cancer at Merrimack. On August 19, Dr. Charles O. Ahonen former professor of Physics while swimming at his summer home. On December 7, Dr. John Lawlor, chairman of the Department of Biology was stricken while recovering at home from a serious fall.

Each of the men left a distinctive mark upon the development of this college and totaled 33 years of educational service to the students of Merrimack College.

Out of long associations and friendships, and a series of debts that cannot be repaid we mourn these men. Yet, strangely, we do not mourn them because they died.

These three, coming from different backgrounds, approached their students with three different orientations to the realities with which they dealt. Dr. Lawlor educated his students in the science of things that live and grow. Dr. Ahonen dealt with the abstractions of the motions of the universe so that they could be known as a related whole. Fr. Lannen added the ethical motivations and religious responsibilities derived from his priestly role to combine with the secular concerns of science.

These three converged in the classroom and prospered in the educated men and women for whom they bore the responsibility of instruction.

We do not mourn them because they have died. We honor them because they have lived.

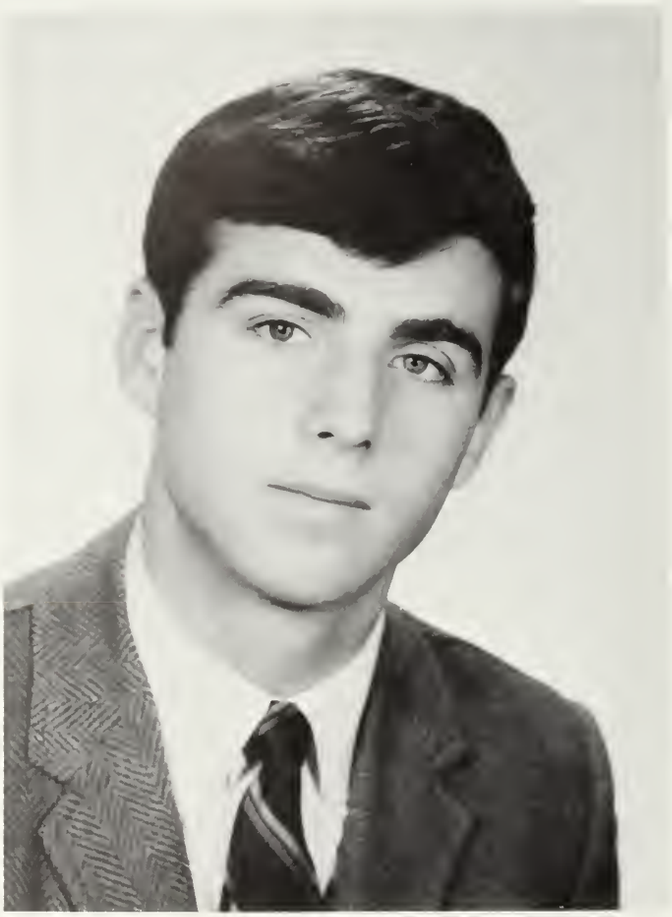
SENIOR

IN MEMORIAM



Joseph P. Daley

Joe Daley was Merrimack. Whatever the situation, on the court, in the classroom, or in one of those quiet moments we all know, Joe gave the necessary life.

Although he had won many awards, Joe remained one of Merrimack's most outgoing personalities. Communication was a vibrant part of Joe's personality . . . he drew you in and you left with something more.

The "something more" that Joe imparted was that undefined quality which made him what he was. Joe is gone now, but perhaps we can learn the lesson he was trying to teach us—give something more to life.

To the students of Merrimack:

The yearbook staff has attempted to provide you with a pictorial record of the past academic year. The staff of the MERRIMACKAN has offered their talents and time to prepare, what I feel is an outstanding volume.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who have worked with me in compiling and creating this book. A special thanks to the section editors whose initiative made possible orderly and artistic work. The entire staff wishes to thank Mr. Joseph Donavan of Wm. J. Keller Inc., the publisher, and Mr. Allen Ollove of Stevens Studios, for their assistance in solving many of our problems. My thanks also goes to Reverend Neil J. McGettigan for his contributions as the Merrimackan faculty advisor in addition to his duties as Class Moderator. Finally, I would like to express thanks to Merrimack College for the opportunity to serve as Editor-in-Chief. Through this position I have experienced unforgettable relationships with the people of Merrimack College. I shall miss them all.

Sincerely,
Stephen P. McKittrick
Editor-in-Chief
